Labeling Thoughts to Reduce Their Grip

Either labeling the thought with the preface, I am having the though that whatever thought you're having or singing it and doing it in a funny melody or really slowing things down can really help diffuse the power or the grip that those thoughts seem to have over you.