Autism Journey From Uncertain Youth to Business Visionary Transcript

(Transcripts are generated by AI and may contain errors)

Personal Background and Son's Progress

You know, when people think of a head banging kid with autism, that was my son. And thankfully that's not where he is today. He's 23 and he, is the visionary and actually very much they co-leads with me Chintan Project.

That's a global human behavior advisory and consulting firm for business owners. that is what I do when I'm not in clinic and not running the businesses that we own and, not run the diagnostic facilities that operate.

Professional Work and Consulting Firm

So that a bit of who I am. Let's get some tools out to our listeners today so we can help them.