Guest Introduction and Tim's Background and we've got a very special guest tonight. We've the great Dr. Stephanie Rimka joining us, and I know you're gonna love her testimonial and her background.

My background's nowhere near as exciting as hers. Literally, I was working at a go-kart track about 30 years ago. While I in high school, someone had called me, showed me this business, said, hey, you can make a lot of money sharing stuff, And I could do that, so I got started part-time, to just pay attention and learn and my first year was able to make, you know, a six for your income while I was in high school and I said, this is awesome.

I love it. And it's been a dream come true ever since. So, I can just let everybody know tonight, we're not going to share with you anything that's too difficult to do really, if you've got a good heart and want to financially benefit from it, this might be the right place for you.

I'm always delighted and honored. Her time is so very valuable. Anytime I call her, I hope I don't bug her because she's got so many things going on in her life, making such an impact on so people's lives.

And tonight, you know what? I think you're gonna hear some great values. She's gonna share with you why she so excited about Riemann and a little bit about her background as well.

and I you gonna be more than blown away. Dynamic leader, powerful, you know, just online influencer, but also in front of the room influencer. Whenever she talks, people listen.

And I'm excited tonight to be able to get a chance. I got my journal here and I'll be taking some vigorous notes. So I will hand the call over to Dr. Stephanie Remke.

Thanks for being with us and welcome to the Call. Oh man, thank you, Tim. Now I am even more nervous. This is my first corporate call, so please bear with me. I have no script.

Dr. Rimka's Medical Background

Didn't see the PowerPoint ahead of time. But he's like, hey, come on in and talk. Are you sure you want me to do that? But when it comes to talking about Riman, first, I'm just going to talk about, well, OK.

You want to introduce myself and who I am, because some people may not know me. All right. So I've Dr. Remka. I have been practicing roughly 25 years.

And I do telehealth and offer courses, so I see patients and teach people all over the world. I specialize in mental health brain health from a holistic standpoint from an orthomolecular psychiatry big word but basically I'm a bridge between ancient principles from nature to restore the body to its natural divine state of joy and bliss.

coupled with technology that focuses in electromagnetic medicine. So I use a lot of electricity, a lotta magnetism. You know, the barbaric term many of you may know of is like electric shock therapy that you saw from a movie, one flown over the cuckoo's nest.

We are much more sophisticated in how we do this because you're an electromagnetic being of light. Now, that sounds like a whole lotta words, and it is.

All that means is I help people reverse autism, schizophrenia, bipolar, PTSD, suicidal ideation, depersonalization, anxiety, panic attacks, and I've been doing it for decades.

And I do it in a drug-free approach. I have done it with Navy SEALs, military veterans. parents of special needs children that in and of themselves can't sleep or whatever.

Also, Alzheimer's, MS, Lyme, Mold, these are all things I deal with because they're all based in nervous system and brain dysregulation. Again, a lot of big words, I get it.

I just help people feel better from being trapped with an inflamed, out of control brain. And that usually happens from nutrient deficiencies and high levels of toxicity.

Those are your two main reasons these are gonna happen. You might have a trauma like a concussion. Okay, that happens too. Now, so why the heck am I here talking about skincare?

A few reasons. I'm just gonna talk about myself as a 51-year-old woman, a mother of an 18- year- old boy, Although I may be seen as an influencer or a smart or whatever.

Personal Skin Struggles and Discovery of Riman

At the end of the day, I also just want to be pretty and attractive and desired and wanted and feel like the most special girl in the world to the least one person.

Okay. And about two years ago I started testosterone replacement. And suddenly about six months ago or so, I broke out with extreme, extreme severe cystic acne from it 30 to 50 lesions at a time.

Very deeply along all my neck as you can see I don't have long hair so I couldn't even hide it, everything that was along the jawline around the neck of the back of my back up into my scalp my temples.

I suddenly it was in pain. It was embarrassing layering on makeup. I want not wanting to wash my face before I went to bed with my partner or just all the things I don't want to go to the beach.

Oh my gosh. And I wanna get my faces wet and he'll see everything that's happening who at 50 wants to have this happen. Okay. Dealing with my hormone replacement doc, no understanding of what to do.

All we could do, she was like, I need to take you off all the testosterone. Within three to four weeks of that, the acne had slightly, maybe less breakout, but they were still there.

These typically take six to eight weeks to resolve on me. And it was rough. So now we took me off the testosterone. I was tired, fatigued, couldn't sleep.

Getting depressed and I told her I said, look, I don't know. I think I can decide between feeling like I almost want to die at this point or clear skin.

This cannot be my choices. So then, of course, the drug options came out. Well, do you want I am such a holistic person you guys I threw away a TV at 22 years old because a mentor told me to do that I haven't had a tv or watch tvs I was 22 I hadn't used deodorant or antiperspirant since I Was 22. I Haven't use shampoo for since about 25 years 2225 I wash them here once a month when I get it cut.

Like to give you an idea that. Don't keep beauty products around I don't. Use the kinds of things people do. I've been eating an organic gluten-free type of diet for 20 years.

I'm very crunchy granola. And I wear the cleanest makeup on earth that I can find. So I want to have cool hair and I wanna have some lipstick, but I make sure I source it from here.

My nail polish is actually sourced from Korea because Koreans do clean things. There's a trend there in case you don't notice it, points on a line. In my desperation, what I was using was not working.

It's a very, very clean line, not helping at all. One of my friends I reached out to and I'm like, What is this stuff you're doing? I see your posts. I feel what's going on.

And in full disclosure, I have been on six different, at six or seven scientific or medical advisory boards for corporations. I consult for things like red light therapy, CBD, for multiple years I've been doing these things, genetics, optimization, longevity, I'm on a board of an educational institute, and I teach continuing education to doctors.

So I am on multiple boards and do several things outside of my private practice. One of the companies I was consulting for This company came up with a skincare line they wanted me to review it.

I did. And I said, you've got to be kidding, because I will never touch this with the 10 foot pole, nobody I know will touch us with 10-foot pole I can never sell or endorse this it's toxic it full of cancer causing chemicals.

This is awful. So in that desperation, I said, aren't you guys worried about this Korean thing? And they go what? They go, Raman, i'm seeing it everywhere.

I don't know what it is, but everyone's talking about it. And so I reached out and they said no, we're not worried. They said I think you should be. So I called a friend.

She sent me some product. I didn't watch a video, I didnt know a thing, i really barely knew anything about nothing. I was so desperate. i washed my face with it, put all the i'm like boo say boo what why what is that i don't understand this sounds so stupid seriously i was like how many steps you want me to do i like i barely washed All the stories, okay?

I did it though. I do the things. Okay, put the booth, the spray, and the thing's okay.

Why Clean Skincare Matters

The cream, go to bed. And I woke up the next day, looked in the mirror and literally like doing these things, I'm like, you gotta be kidding me. What's going on?

What? 75% reduction, redness all gone, cysts flat. That can't be right. I mean, just, and I was doing all of it going, I just don't understand what's happening here.

75% improvement at least overnight. Oh, it's like, i'm not gonna cry yet. iI'm really happy though. Thank you so much. Wash my face again, put it on. Did the same thing the next day.

That second day I did cry. Tears of joy and gratitude. I can't get over this. You need it. And kind of since then, Spirit has just opened a path for me, Rimaan, Rimka, the name is almost exactly the same.

We got one letter different. I think Spirit was like, baby girl here, this is where it is. And in more full disclosure for the last year and a half, I would say I've been formulating my own skincare line.

I have been in there, the potions and lotions, experimenting with all kinds of molecules. I'm a tap out on that whole idea because this is 100 times better.

And I think I'll just sell this because they sure seem to have figured it out. I go, I don't know what magic unicorn sauce farts are in this stuff, but I love it.

So then I looked it up and I went, You've got to be kidding me. I never heard of the young pool. I've never had the frequency, you know, Jay, like frequency.

Frequency water. What are these people talking about? And then I looked into it and my mind was blown and it makes complete sense to me why this is working the way it's working now, because I understand energy, frequency and electromagnetics and radiation.

Because I do it for a living and I bridge ancient technology. These are ancient heritage plants. With outrageous liposomal microfluidization technology, you've taken something together and put it into like Greek mythology superhero results, and that's what we're getting.

And that what that frequency water actually is. Active volcanoes create radiation that actually heal things and make everything like super mythology like titans around them.

That's, what has gone on here. The genius of this owner and developer has done something I've never seen before. And it makes total sense because none of us have had access to it before.

No wonder my skin never saw this before no wonder nothing's ever worked like this. And I'm telling you, I was doing all kinds of things, making my own chemistry sets from everything from the research that told me it should have cleared up my scan, but it wasn't doing it.

And so I'm like, okay, I don't really understand what's going on here. So I am back on my testosterone. My skin is better than ever. I just interviewed my esthetician, medical estetician who was injecting cortisone.

When I got to the point I let him inject the cortison. And I couldn't even take the pain and I had to be on stages. and feel weak. I can't do it, I need it fixed.

So I temporarily even let it go, go do, it extract them, do what you got to do. And I don't have to any of that anymore. She saw my face this week, Tuesday, and just said I cannot believe it.

There's literally nothing to extract. there's nothing you inject. she's like, i need what I'm gonna ship it to you. i said i'll send it you girl. like i've never seen it that's the most radical change in skin I've ever seen.

And it's like two months of use. She goes, it' brighter. It's glowing. I'm like, is this luminous light stuff? I didn't know about it either. So I am not a skin expert.

Am a brain health expert, OK? Am mental health experts. And a lot of those problems are caused by toxicity. That's my personal testimony, mind blowing.

Everybody I have using it is like the same. Maybe it isn't overnight as dramatic, but within two or three days, you got to be kidding me. No, I don't.

It's tiger grass and Jeju water, that's all you need to know, it's just a lot of water. I don't know. And I honestly, I joke, i've looked at the science, you don' t need t know the magical ingredients, yo u don t NEED to kno any of the things.

You're like, honey, is tiger g rass in this frequency water? It' amazing. It is magic stuff from Korea. That's why you have to say, t at's really all anybody needs to k ow, because they don''t really care either.

They just want to, can it fix it? Can it make it prettier? C n it makes it cleaner? And then for people like me, a l t about clean matters, right? I'm that crunchy granola mom.

I am the one that had arnica in her purse. So when her son fell down, he was getting arlica and lavender on him, essential oils. That's me. Yeah, you know, I do things.

You can't sleep? Take some vetiver. Try some frankincense. What about some arrica? That is how I live life. Not everybody does, but it matters to me that they've banned over 3,000 toxins.

It matters for me they're way more strict in Korea than they are even in European standards. American standards are a joke. We allow anything to happen here.

I want to say something a little sobering, and I may never get a chance to do this again, so I'm going to take the chance and tell you now.

Anti-Aging, Botox Concerns, and Whole-Body Care

And I am not doing this to criticize or shame anyone. The average baby today is born before he or she takes its very first breath. Studies have shown with an average of 287 chemicals inside that baby.

217 of those are known to cause nervous system damage. 208 of them cause birth defects. And 180 have been identified as causing cancer. So before a baby has taken its first breath, it's coming in poisoned.

It's come in with a toxic load. How are we expecting it to even function? Are we surprised at all the childhood illnesses, the allergies, reactions? Then once they get born in the hospital, we only know, that only knows what happens, right?

As I said, I see a lot of people, lots, and it's getting younger and younger. And 20 years ago, did not see kids with anxiety disorders. 20 Years ago I did see children with panic disorders, nobody heard of 13 year olds mutilating, cutting themselves.

No one ever heard that when we were growing up. Who did that? Nobody. You know how common it is now? I've seen it every single week in practice. anxiety, depression, PTSD, panic attacks, confusion, loss of emotion, depersonalization, brain fog, memory loss, lost of taste, hearing, smell, hair loss.

All these things that people are hearing about, thyroid dysfunction, insomnia, adrenal dysfunction and seizures. Super common, I'm seeing them more and more.

I gonna put the pieces together here, because I don't wanna see one more person get something that they don' need to get that's actually causing all of these.

And it has to do with some of this toxic load. Those babies are being born with that toxicload, cause they're getting it directly from their mothers. And the average woman is slathering on 350 to 400 chemicals a day in the name of beauty, in name anti-aging.

Now, I want us to embrace aging in a beautiful way. That requires radical self-love and radical acceptance. I can't wave a magic wand and make that happen.

People are going to be pushing up against it. It is weird to see your face change. You know, it's like, that doesn't look like me. What happened? It's strange.

The whole process. But I don't want to save one person. from exposure to the most toxic poison known on earth. That's a fact. It was started as a biological weapon of war to kill people.

it spreads from the site of injection, it disrupts the gut microbiome, It crosses the blood brain barrier, paralyzes your brain cells, your heart, your lungs, your muscles, you face, and numbs you from having emotions and expressing them properly.

And you can walk into any med spa, maybe any hair salon, for 300 bucks you get 50 units of something we call Botox. If I can do anything to make any of you and your children and grandchildren never have exposure to that which is the most toxic substance on earth known to man.

That is not a lie. Started as a biological weapon of war 100 years ago. And anybody can go take a weekend seminar and be certified to inject your face with it.

It passes through the placenta to a baby and we have no idea how to detox it at all. That's what I'm here for. And that to me is what finally what Ramon can offer to people could is the most extraordinary anti-aging or reverse aging rejuvenation product I've ever seen with zero toxicity.

It's giving Botox style and filler results without any of that risk. People don't understand what this is doing. I didn't what it was doing until I studied it, and they're not being told the truth.

So I've been talking about the dangers of Botox and fillers for a very long time, but it's been hard for people to go, well, I hear you, But I still don t like what I see in the mirror.

get water on my face and have the makeup come off when I'm on a weekend with my boyfriend. But now you can. Ramon is doing it because it's healing you from the inside out.

And we can start with the collagen, with a gut supplement. We start from beauty from inside-out. You should not be beautiful at the cost of your health.

Your health should get better. This is healing at a cellular level, going from an inside or topical. Both ways, growing hair back. I know I'm not supposed to say it, but say what you want.

My hair is growing back, So I do use this and I sent it to my mother. She's like, you can send me more of the hair stuff. I said, OK, Mommy, I'll send you more.

So there's a little bit of my why. And it matters to me. I don't need you guys to know those stats, but I know every time you're selling this to someone and you've given the collagen mask and they're having those Botox style results, I'm going to do one tonight because I have a photo shoot tomorrow and i'll do it in the morning too, so I'm super fresh.

You know, you are saving potentially someone's life. I've seen patients go deaf, I have seen them have full face paralysis, suicidal ideation, all directly from Botox.

And I'm tired of it. Tired of them thinking that is safe and that's the only option. This is an extraordinary option and the idea that 20 year olds are getting it and 13 year old little girls are using poisons, get them on this instead.

I'm looking at their 20, 30 years down the road, are they able to have babies? Are they going to be fertile? So please to me, it's more than just skincare.

Network Marketing and Business Benefits

It's really whole body care. Your holistic way of saying, you know, in the whole concept of the Korean heritage plants and that ritual of mothers teaching the daughter, like take time, give yourself a ritual, a doorman of self care, self love.

I love it. So there's my testimony on this and why and the products and what the ingredients, the why that maybe some of you have missed. We could do a science call another time, but nobody cares about all that.

That isn't important. And let me just do side note about MLM a little bit on the benefits of this industry, Tim. Can I get two more minutes? OK. So I'm a doctor in private practice.

Again, six practices. One was a miserable failure, sort of. It was financial failure. Close the doors. because I'm the type of doctor that did this just cause I wanted to help people.

That's it. I was so dumb and naive. If I opened my first practice with something called box on a wall, that meant there was a box in the wall and you put in what you could afford.

We didn't last a year. You know, I'm that kind of doc that struggled to get paid. I felt guilty for someone paying a sick person giving me money. Like I wish I could just do it for free.

And really, it doesn't work. You can't pay your rent like that. So it's taken me a journey to learn how to make a business profitable and not feel guilty at the same time.

At one point, I had a private practice. I pretty much donated most of my money to a nonprofit. And I was flipping houses on the side just so I could make money because I felt so guilty.

So I have to get myself congruent with I deserve to money. But I'm going to tell you one of the industries that helped me do that tremendously has been network marketing.

This direct sales network, marketing industry I've been in for about six years. The practice I make a good living and I help people and a can give away stuff and do price reductions and have gratis cases and Do whatever I want, because the network marketing gives me a freedom in.

travel, community. Private practice is very lonely. This has given me fun. It's given purpose to go have like water cooler talk with people. And it has giving me quite a bit of money that helps me fund some of my nonprofit kind of stuff in practice as well as an exit strategy.

So a lot of doctors in private practice, we don't really have an extra strategy, if we're not working, were not making any money. This helps me make money when I sleep, and it helps make doctors money, when they sleep.

So they can take some time off, so maybe they could write a course, or they write book. Or they just have a vacation with their kids for a change. And they're not always gone.

This is giving me time. I had to close my practice temporarily because my son had a brain disorder himself and got very sick. It was this industry that allowed me to do it.

Money could come in and I could leave the state, take him to get specialized care for two years. and I didn't lose my house and my cars and didn' have to stop sending my mom money because network marketing, I learned how to leverage myself and have a team working with me and teaching me.

And I've grown tremendously and been blessed to be on medical boards and formulate products for them. It's a fun industry and it's built on I don't win unless you win.

I dont make any money unless I'm helping teach you how make money. I'm a college ball player. I go, I can't think of anything better than that. Cause I, my whole team has to win.

My whole has the score. Like who cares if you're an MVP, if he lost, you know what I mean? That's stupid. So I think it's a beautiful industry in and of itself.

And I was almost ready to walk away from some heartbreak and some disappointment and betrayals I experienced before. Riemann has come along and given me my own rebirth.

I'm really grateful and I hope you consider joining us. We have a good time and it's pretty light, you know? It's skincare. I am crying and a very sensitive person and feel big feelings, but it is fun.

It is helping people feel beautiful again. Fun getting messages, oh my God, I usually avoid mirrors and now I look in the mirror and can't believe it.

Normally I feel sexy but I felt sexy for the first time. That is a beautiful thing to hear. 50 and 60 and 70 year old people. I love it. So thank you, Tim, for the time.

And I know it was a little long, but no, it's perfect. Like, I'm gonna get out of the way quickly, make room for you. This was unbelievable. It was so I mean, over here, getting teary eyed.

You do you do such an amazing job. Obviously, every time your mouth opens up, good things come out. with this and having the smartest person I know, which is Dr.

Rimka and probably the dumbest person that I knew myself on the phone. I want to be as dumb as you one day, Tim. Listen, one of my favorite phrases is go ugly fast, go early, and go hard.

Final Encouragement and Team Mindset

Everybody, I really want you to make mistakes. We are not striving for perfection. And I love that about you. Your story, how old? I'm like, listen, if I can feel forward as well as this guy.

Show me what you got. Like I can't I love it. You know, I'm late to the game at 50. That's for sure. Well, thank you so much for being with us, man. So if you like what You heard tonight, get back to your buddy that invited you on.

And I really appreciate Dr. Inca joining us man, you are unbelievable on fire. Every time the leaderboards come out, Dr Inka is always at the top, leading the charts leading away, building such a rock star organization and helping so many people win.

following her lead. And every time I get a chance to hear from her and learn from, I can get excited. So God bless each and every one of you. Thank you, doctor.

Any last words before we wrap up? Yeah, thank you for that. So why do you see me on the top of the leaderboards? Because I'm concerned with helping people.

If you focus on helping other people, you will be taken care of. Like you said, help get people to manager. You teach them how to do that, teach him how fish, they'll be looking to take care themselves for life.

Keep going on to the next one. And once they get to senior manager team leader, make sure they know how teach their people how become manager, I focus how many people can I help today.

if you do, that I promise you, will make it. That's it. I'm 100% agreeance with that. So God bless you guys tonight. Thank you so much, Dr. Rimka. Valuable information, valuable insight.

Let's make it happen to everybody together. God Bless you, guys. Have a wonderful evening.
